THE FASHIONS.

EVENING TOILETS AND NEW FABRICS.

In discussing the evening toilets Harper's Bazar says that the low, round, short waist, with wide belt and sash, and the trained skirt with smock in scant front and voluminous fullness behind, are as admirably reproduced as if copied from portraits of Josephine and Hortense. Faille and velvet of soft faded tints—turquoise blue, serpent green, and Nile with damask gauzes and China crape, are the rich fabrics of these dresses; quantities of embroidery, filmy lace, and flowers in profusion, are their garniture. A charming dress for a princess and for the ball-room, is of white Chambery gauze, trimmed with eglantine trailing wild rose. The skirt has flat plaitings in front, with gathered flounces on the train; the over skirt of China crape with netted fringe is gracefully draped. Garlands of eglantine, with its green leaves, almost cover the front from belt to shoe. The low, round Josephine corsage has a bertha, the meres; atom of sleeves, and eglantine cluster on the left shoulder, and a very wide belt and sash made of rose and green silk, of the two shades seen in the garland.

A companion piece to this is a similar dress, with a tablier of water lilies, and a fringe of dark, glossy, trailing grasses. A most distinguished dress is of black damask gauze with the Josephine corsage, ornamented with pale pink and dark-red garden roses, and a sash of dull dark-red faille lined with a pale pink. The black Chantily lace on the bertha is sprinkled with fine jet.

Embroidery is the richest trimming of the season for full dress toilets. It is daintily wrought in colored silks in white tulle, and is then applied to the side of the dress. Vines of flowers in their natural color are used as a heading for lace and ruffles. Entire front breadths of dresses are imported done in fine needle work on tulle, diaphanous gauze, or muslin; these will be laid plainly over silk, while the back breadths will be abundantly ruffled. A superb dress of faintest Nile green faille has the overskirt trimmed with white lace headed by a band of embroidered Marguerites. This over-skirt falls open in front, and its most retrousse drapery is caught back by a velvet sash. The front breadth of the skirt beneath is almost covered by a spiral jabot of silk and lace.

POLONAISES AND WOOLLEN SUITS.

Polonaises prevail among the fine woollen suits that will be preferred to silk for winter promenades, shopping, church and travelling toilets. These polonaises are of cashmere or of roughly twilled camel's hair, worn above skirts of silk of the same shade trimmed with woollen flounces, showing linings and facings of silk; or else the trimming is deep w de kilt plaits alternately of silk and camel's hair.—Most new polonaises fall open in front from the belt down in a gradually receding line (not rounded), and are held back by tapes tied over the tournure. Loose belted polonaises, the closely fitted princess shape, and the double-breasted redingotes are all opened in this way to display the tablier of the skirt beneath. The old favorite Marguerite polonaise, which disappeared from among earliest importations, is again brought to light among the last arrivals. It now has open fronts and most retrousse drapery; the bows on the back seams are replaced by three large buttons placed lengthwise. Dress skirts are not lined or bound with braid, but are simply faced, and are now provided with tapes high up in the second side seams to tie them back on the tournure.

Specially attractive among camel's-hair costumes is one of the new bleu de mer, or sea blue, a dull light blue with gray tints.—The silk skirt has kilt plaits three inches wide alternately of silk and of camel's hair, extending above the knee; the belted polonaise of camel's hair has a silk facing around the edge, cord loops and large passementerie leaves down the front, a wide belt, and a side sash of silk. A cashmere suit of darker sea blue has a redingote with Marguerite back, double-breasted, open below the waist, square pockets and a coachman's collar; the silk skirt has cashmere flounces, bias, very fully gathered, and cut in points lined with silk.—Felt hats of the same shade, trimmed with faille and ostrich plumes, are appropriate with these rough surface dresses. Bronze, olive, gray, dark garnet and nut-brown suits are shown of similar fashion.

POLKA-SPOTTED CASHMERES.

These say Leslie's Lady's Journal, are to be seen in all the late beautiful colors, and after the exact patterns of many years ago.—These, with other figured goods, are certain indications that the French are making vigorous efforts to supplant the plain dress goods which have so long enjoyed undisputed favor. That they will succeed in their efforts is extremely doubtful.

For those who have an abundance of money and can change their attire with every caprice of fashion, they may attain popularity, but hardly with ladies whose means are restricted, and whose wardrobes are how very fully supplied.

For home dresses, polka-spotted cashmeres will be strikingly handsome, and for the street they will be manufactured into the polonaise, with the skirt of the costume of plain cashmere of the color of the ground of the spotted material.

OTHER NOVELTIES.

Satin striped empress cloths are also a novelty. The stripes of those to which we allude are of self color; the body of the goods is stout so't and flexible, and for a cheap, effective dress, we wonder whether anything could be handsomer. They have somewhat the appearance of the Sicilian poplins, and are variant one of the general ideas in striped fabrics of last season.

A new style of brocade poplins came out during the week. They are of woollen, French manufacture, interspersed with bouquets of bright or self-shaded flowers, and are peculiarly striking. They are for polonaises.

Brocade silks in the richest grounds and texture, bespringled with the brightest flowers—it may be in defence of the inglorious snubbing to which "Dolly Varden" was subjected, at her popularity waned—are among the fabrics placed at our election. They will command very wide-spread favor, while they are far too attractive to be wholly neglected. They will be in demand for over-dresses for house wear, and if trimmed with the taste and richness they merit, will be exceedingly elegant. Lace, fringe and handmade trimming of plain silk of the color of the ground will be employed in garniture.

In plain silks, an extensive and beautiful variety of new colors and shades of color, many of them entirely different from those before noticed by us, have been introduced from France. Of the colors inclining to the olive or bronze tint—or, in other words, the brownish green, with the gray or silvery tinge peculiar to the fruit from which the color derives its name—we have the couchong, a very pleasing shade, with a greener inclination to green than tea green; the oolong somewhat lighter, and nearer a brown; the mode, still lighter shade of oolong; the pelo and the hummingbird, a well defined shade, and fainter shade of bronze color; the scarabe, a rich shade of green, nearer to invisible green; and the [illegible], [illegible] Of colors that incline to blue, we have the [illegible], a very dark shade of blue, with a tint of green; the [illegible], a dark grayish green, of the peculiar phosphorescent shade sometimes seen on a well tempered knife blade; the Eurine, of the blackish green of the waters of that sea. In the purple line is encre, or ink color, cornecas, or crow color, very little lighter than the ink; tourmaline, or the rich, dark bluish purple of the gem or mineral; and Byron, a very dark reddish purple. This last color is extremely rich.

For polonaises, the very latest importation is Damascene crepeline, which, as its name denotes, is a fabric of crepe like ground, very closely resembling the Sicilienne crepe heretofore noticed, and richly embossed with brocade figures. It is thinner than the Sicilienne crepe, and will be much used for the medium evening dress, sometimes seen at dinner.

Satines and diagonal serges are of far more beautiful texture than those of last winter.—These goods seem to be in great favor in Germany, as many of the Berlin suits—indeed we might say, the most of them—are of these fabrics. Some are richly embroidered, and when trimmed with taste, are elegant, while inexpensive dresses. They may be made at from $35 to $60.

For the colder weather, and more common use for street wear, English waterproofs are described this season to meet the favor they deserve. A fine English waterproof suit will cost from $40 to $50—a cloak from $20 to $30. American waterproofs are much less expensive, though in beauty of texture do not compare at all favorably with the English.

A Paris correspondent of the Lady's Journal says:

"I think a more distingue dress than the following could scarcely be found: Kilted skirt of rich black drap de soie, and tight fitting polonaise of black velvet, scalloped out round the bottom, edged with silk passementerie cord, and finished with Valenciennes lace about two inches wide, put on almost plain. The polonaise was very long behind, and just caught up with loops of very wide black silk; while in front it was short and plain, fastened all the way down with passementerie buttons. The sleeves were of the dress shape, semi-tight down to the elbow, and thence finished by a deep frilling, edged like the one in the polonaise. Ruffles of deep Valenciennes lace at the throat and waist completed this elegant toilet."

THE OCTOBER VERDICT.

The great triumph of Tuesday proves as thoroughly its details as it is conclusive in its general results. In Pennsylvania the majority has exceeded the highest figures of the Republicans, and is the largest at any election since the first Lincoln campaign. Even the Tribune now concedes a majority of nearly 30,000, and it bids fair to exceed 30,000. We have carried the whole ticket, insured the U. S. Senatorship, and made nearly a clear sweep in the Congressional elections. The delegation, which last year stood nearly divided, 13 Republicans to 11 Democrats, is now reported to stand 23 Republicans to 4 Democrats, a clear gain of ten Congressmen, in a single State, at a single election. In Ohio, where the "Liberal" movement had its birth and where its strongest efforts were put forth, we have also done well. In spite of the defection in and around one or two large cities, which was largely due to such local issues as the liquor question, we have carried the State by some 30,000 majority, thus holding the ground of last year and considerably exceeding our average majorities at State elections. We have lost two Congressmen in the Cincinnati districts and have probably gained one on the balance of the State. This, as the result of a campaign which the Greeleyites claimed, is to overwhelm Republicanism in a "Liberal" tidal wave, should be regarded as eminently satisfactory to us.

Our triumph in Indiana is quite as conclusive, even if a single candidate of the Democratic State ticket has squeezed through by a few hundred votes, which are already challenged as fraudulent. The only claim of the Coalitionists is the election of Hendricks by about 1,000 majority, while we have carried the rest of the State ticket, and elected a Republican Legislature which secures the election of an N S Senator and dashes the hopes of Hendricks who had his eyes upon that seat and cared nothing for the Governorship. And here, again, we have made sweeping gains in the Congressional Districts, defeating those iron clad Democrats Voorhees and Manson, electing two Congressmen at large, and changing the Indiana delegation from 6 Republicans to 5 Democrats, as it stood last year to 10 Republicans and 3 Democrats, a clear gain of five more Congressmen. Moreover the vote of the Congressional Districts shows an aggregate Republican majority in the State of some 2,000. Dispatches from Indianapolis state that frauds have been discovered to such an extent that the Republicans have determined to contest Hendricks' election before the Legislature. In any event, the State is sure for Grant in November by 10,000 to 15,000 majority.

In Nebraska, whence the redoubtable Tipton so recently returned with loud assurances of a Liberal victory, we have nearly doubled our former majority, carrying everything at the polls and securing another Republican Congressman. To sum up the grand total of Tuesday's achievements we find that the Republicans have carried the four States by a popular majority in each, the aggregate of which will each between 50,000 and 60,000; we have gained at least twelve Congressmen, bringing into the next Congress with delegations changed from 34 Republicans and 31 Democrats to 46 Republicans and 14 Democrats as the result of one day's work, and that is of vastly more importance, have utterly and irretrievably routed the lately boastful Coalition and rendered the election of GRANT AND WILSON by an overwhelming majority so certain that all sensible Democrats have ceased to dispute it.

OBITUARY. The Augusta "Liberal Republican" expired on Saturday after a short life of less than 60 days, and the best words it has ever spoken for the community where it was printed are in its parting complaint that it died for want of pecuniary support. Started as the special organ of the "Liberal Republicans," it was entirely devoid of character or ability, and scouted all pretense to truth or decency, although we cheerfully accord it the distinction of having been decidedly the most villainous publication ever issued in Maine. Its summary decease only antedates the final dissolution of its party by a very few weeks.

The defeat of the pot-valiant grandiose Voorhees in the Sixth Indiana Congressional District is gratifying result, and we trust the seedy harbinger of the time when no unrepentant opponent of the late war for the Union shall represent even Democratic districts in the national halls of legislation.—This manimake a speech before the Baltimore Convention in which he characterized the Greeley nomination as it deserved. But after the convention he crawled in the dirt and swallowed Greeley. He did it in the hope of getting back to Congress, and don't get back after all.

WHERE IS GENERAL BANKS? When General Banks first bobbed over to Greeleyism it was stated that he would express the merchants of New York upon the financial condition of the country, including probably some hints regarding the valuation of Cuban bonds. The time for delivering the address was postponed, and as yet the address has not been fixed upon for its delivery. It is a pity that Mr. Banks should not have an opportunity to enlighten the country upon so important a subject.

The Commercial, which found room in its editorial columns day after day for the Tribune's false-witness against Speaker Blaine, has thus far suppressed the conclusive refutation given by Gen. Ewing, a Democrat, which it received from the Associated Press last Thursday. It has spread upon its files in the most conspicuous manner the vilest slanders against a distinguished citizen of this State, and when this statement is exposed by a member of its own party, the truth is suppressed. This is the journalism of "Reform!"

The Hartford Courant and Springfield Republican official returns from twenty-two States in Connecticut showing the total vote of the State to be 106,000, Grant's majority 12,000, a gain of 2,000 since last year. Massachusetts will give Grant 60,000 majority, a gain of 10,000 since last year. Rhode Island will give Grant 4,000 majority, a gain of 1,000 since last year. Vermont will give Grant 40,000 majority, a gain of 5,000 since last year. Maine will give Grant 70,000 majority, a gain of 10,000 since last year. Nebraska will give Grant 3,000 majority, a gain of 1,000 since last year. Kansas will give Grant 20,000 majority, a gain of 5,000 since last year. Minnesota will give Grant 40,000 majority, a gain of 10,000 since last year. Michigan will give Grant 50,000 majority, a gain of 10,000 since last year. Pennsylvania will give Grant 300,000 majority, a gain of 30,000 since last year. Ohio will give Grant 100,000 majority, a gain of 30,000 since last year. Illinois will give Grant 150,000 majority, a gain of 30,000 since last year. Iowa will give Grant 80,000 majority, a gain of 10,000 since last year. Wisconsin will give Grant 50,000 majority, a gain of 10,000 since last year. Minnesota will give Grant 40,000 majority, a gain of 10,000 since last year. DOMESTIC NEWS.

A Terrible Disaster!

BURIED BY A FALLING HOUSE!

SIX PERSONS KILLED!

A FOUR-STORY HOUSE FALLS.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 12. A terrible accident occurred here last evening involving the loss of six persons. A house being erected in Market street, four stories high, fell about six o'clock, crushing in the rear of two houses adjoining, one of which was occupied by G. Webb as a printing office, and the other by Henry Nottle as a tailoring establishment. The Nottle family, consisting of husband, wife, five children and a journeyman named Lewis Johns, were at supper and were buried in the ruins. The accident soon drew a large crowd in front of the place. The fire alarm was sounded and the police and firemen were promptly on the ground.

RECOVERING THE BODIES.

They soon recovered the bodies of three children, boys aged about four, eight and twelve, who were badly bruised and cut, but apparently none of their bones were broken. The doctors thought they were not dangerously hurt. After several hours of labor the bodies of the remainder, consisting of Nottle, his wife, baby 18 months old, a little girl 4 years old, and the journeyman, all were dead. One boy died afterwards, evidently from internal injuries. No cause is known for the accident, but it is reported that the walls were put up too quick, before they were well set. Much feeling is excited in the city on the subject and the frequency of similar accidents. Johns leaves a wife and two children.

FROM NEW YORK.

MUNICIPAL POLITICS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12. The Workingmen's Central Union last night nominated James O'Brien, Mayor, and the balance of the county ticket.

At the Tammany Convention yesterday, Wm. Butler Duncan formally withdrew from the mayoralty; also, Wm. H. Wickham. Mr. Lawrence, who was nominated unanimously, was formerly legal adviser to the Committee of Seventy, and was recently endorsed by Democrats for the Judgeship.

THE YACHT RACE.

The yacht "Dreadnaught" won the ocean race, 240 miles in 25 hours and 5 minutes, beating the yacht Palmer.

A VILLAINOUS PLOT FOILED.

Thursday night a gang of ruffians overpowered the bridge-tender on the Delaware and Lackawanna road, near West Paterson, N. J., and placed rocks and railroad iron on the track, which here runs on a trestle work forty feet high, intending to wreck and rob the train—certainly they were discovered by the track walker.

THE RECENT ELECTIONS.

The Tribune's figures are: Hartranft's majority 52,067; Hendricks' majority is between 15 and 16,000.

The Times' figures are: Ohio, 16,000 Republican majority. Hendricks' majority is about 800. Hester Clymer's Democratic majority for Congress in the Reading (Pa.) District, 9071.

HARTRANFT GOES FOR HIS ACCUSERS.

After a parade and serenade at Norristown, Pa., last night, Gov. Hartranft made a speech of twenty-eight minutes, in which he said he had been sealed in the campaign; but now he would say that the charges against him were from men who robbed the treasury, and he would compel them to disgorge.

FUGITIVES.

Further efforts to find the Assemblyman, Tom Fields, are unsuccessful.

Daniel McWilliams, of Jersey City, returned yesterday, surrendered himself, and is now locked up.

ANOTHER SCHEME FOR REFORM.

An address has been issued by Charles O'Conor, in conjunction with Jas. E. Wheeler, H. Peckham and Joseph H. Choate to the citizens of the State on the subject of obtaining good men for the Assembly. The gentlemen named in addition to Wm. M. Evarts were last night selected as aide's in the prosecutions against the Ring. After alluding to the failure of the last Assembly in accomplishing anything in the interest of reform, and urging the cause for suspecting any candidate the mere fact of his membership of the last Legislature, the address urges the selection of good men irrespective of party for these offices. Unless these efforts are made it is feared that a number of city peculators may succeed in their plans for securing a venal Assembly.

The services of these gentlemen are offered in making observations upon the fitness of candidates, without party bias or personal feeling. Where, as in the case of the present candidates for Governor, the gentlemen are in every unexceptionable, they say they will give no recommendation.

ROUND TO TALK.

In an interview with a correspondent, yesterday, Greeley said he should visit several agricultural fairs this week, and if his friends thought best he would make more speeches.

ANOTHER REPUTATION.

Minister Jones publishes another long letter denying the charges concerning the President and the Swedish Colony land.

A WESTERN TRAGEDY—FATAL QUARREL ABOUT A MARRIAGE.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 12. At the Hickman's mills, this county, yesterday, William and Harrison Young, sons of Solomon Young, a wealthy farmer, quarrelled about the proposed marriage of their sister to a man named Clemens, which William favored and Harrison opposed. Weapons were drawn, but the parties were separated by friends. Harrison rode home, procured a shot gun, and returning met his brother riding with Clemens and another man, whereupon he shot him, inflicting a fatal wound and killing his horse. Clemens turned and rode off, when Harrison fired again, severely wounding him in the back. The assassin then fled, but was arrested at Independence.

The London Times in an obituary of Wm. H. Seward says, "He was a useful statesman, an eminent American, and gave proof by his deeds of his uniform philanthropy and love of justice."

SPAIN.

REPUBLICAN REVOLT.

MADRID, Oct. 12. Soon after the Cortes convened in session to-day, the Minister for the Colonies announced that the government had received information of a Republican revolt at Ferrol.

He said 1500 men belonging to the garrison of the Arsenal at that town, together with a portion of the Naval coast guard and some of the population were joined in the movement. The leaders of the revolt are Montijo and Rajoy. The Minister further stated that the troops in the fortress at Ferrol refused to join the insurrectionists, and are holding out again them, awaiting the arrival of reinforcements dispatched to the town by the government. The combined force, it is believed, will be amply sufficient to suppress the revolt.

LATER—THE PORT OF FERROL CLOSED.

The garrison of the fortress and crew of the Spanish war steamer Eusajazedo continue to withstand the overtures of the rebels and remained faithful to the government. Notwithstanding this, the insurgents succeeded in gaining possession of the gunboats which were anchored in the harbor. They also obtained possession of the light house and imprisoned the keeper. By these means they have closed the Port, so that the government reinforcements cannot reach the place by sea.

IN THE CORTES.

When the Minister of the Colonies announced the facts in the Cortes the Alphonsist and Republican deputies took occasion to disavow any complicity or their partisans with the movement, and declared that their sympathy is with the government and against the insurrectionists.

MOLASSES at 28 to 30 cents per gallon.

The above are wholesale or package prices.

PRODUCE MARKET.

The following report is obtained by particular observation on the market and the quotations are the prices paid for produce from the country teams this day, or about the average for the week past:

BUTTER. Much has been brought into market only in small quantity during the week, and has sold current at 28 a 30 c per lbs, although occasionally a sale is made at the top of 32c when delivered in wonderfasant from the market. Pressed hay we should quote as being worth on the market from $18,00 $20 per ton.

POTATOES. Loose straw is brought in in sufficient quantity to supply the demand at $0,0 $0 per bush.

APPLES. Yellow ones have been sold for the last day or two at $2,50 to $2,60 per bushel and extra hand-picked Baldwins have sold at $3,25 per bushel.

CHICKENS. A fair, or common quality of butter is plenty at 25 cents per pound, but good butter is in good demand and is has been before reported, is sell fast, and sells at better figures when offered on the market. The wet season has produced a dissatisfied feeling, but the quality is such that does not produce a flutter.

FOWLS are now selling at a price that should encourage the raising of the same, and buyers are anxious to take them at $5 to 60 cents per dozen.

TURKEYS. Handsome turkeys are worth from 60 to 65 cents per lbs.

SWEET POTATOES are worth from $4,50 to $5,00 per bushel.

ONIONS at $3,50 to $3,75.

CRANBERRIES are worth from $6,00 to $10,00 per bbl.

LARD. The best marrow squash are worth from 1½ to 2 cents per pound.

APPLES are selling on the market at 50 cents to $1,00 and $1,25 per bushel.

CHICKENS are worth from 15 to 18 and 20 cents per pound.

FRESH MEATS. Round begins good condition for the market, sell at 7¾ a 8 cents per pound, and fresh pork is worth by the quarter or side 6 to 10 and 12 cents per pound.

WOOL, &c. The best quality of washed wool is worth 50 to 52 cents per pound. Wool sales are worth $1 and upwards.

WOOD AND COAL. Good dry hard wood is worth $6,00 to $7,50 per cord, and dry soft do from $4,50 $5,00. The best quality of soft for stove and furnace use is worth from $7,50 to $8,00 per ton, and soft coal is retailed from 8 to extra at one shilling per bushel.

FIRE IN LEVANT. We learn that on Saturday morning about 1 o'clock the buildings of Mr. G. W. Hurd, Postmaster, at Levant village, were discovered to be on fire, and the flames had gained such headway that the family had barely time to escape with their lives, saving nothing but the night clothes they had on at the time. The building burned was quite large, and the lower story was occupied by Mr. Hurd as a store, in which he kept the Post Office. He resided over the store, and his furniture, household goods, stock in trade, and all the postal matter in the office, were entirely consumed, as well as some $900 cash he had in the house. His loss is estimated at $7,000, on which there was an insurance of $3,000.

ROBBERY. Between 7 and 8 o'clock, Friday evening, Capt. David Day of the schooner "Eagle" of Bristol, went on board his vessel, which lay at Farrar's wharf in the Kenduskeag, just above the railroad bridge, and after making all secure, lay down in his berth, with his clothes on, and went to sleep. He was awakened by the fire alarm at half past 10 o'clock, and found that his candle, which he had extinguished on turning in, was lighted, and that his chest had been overhauled and the contents turned out on the floor. On looking things over, he missed nothing, but on examining his person found that his wallet, containing $179 in bills and some scrip, had been taken from his pants pocket while he slept. No trace has been obtained as to the identity of the thief, though several persons are suspected, among them a sailor whom Capt. Day had discharged and paid off the previous afternoon.

THE BAZOR CASE.

EXAMINATION OF CLARK, CHARGED WITH ASSAULTING LEONARD WITH A BAZOR—RESPONDENT BOUND OVER WITH BAIL AT $1000.

The case of John Clark, arraigned for an assault on Frank Leonard, with intent to kill, was heard by Judge Clark Saturday, having been continued from Monday. The stories told by the witnesses seem to indicate that Leonard was the aggressor; that he was a more powerful man than Clark, and that the saloon, by the regulations of the boat, was one of the places in which Leonard had no right to come. There was no counsel present for Clark at this hearing and Judge Clark examined the witnesses, the first of whom was Dr. Hamlin, the physician attending Leonard. Dr. Hamlin was sworn and his testimony was as follows:—

I am attending Leonard who was cut by the respondent; he seems to be rapidly improving and the only danger now is from inflamation of the chest and upper part of the abdomen; but this is nearly past and the main wound, that in the abdomen, is nearly healed.

The next witness was Henry Brooks, a waiter on the Cambridge, who saw the affray, and being sworn, testified as follows:—

I saw the difficulty between Clark and Leonard. Leonard came into the saloon smoking a cigar, and I told him not to drop ashes on the carpet; Clark also told him not to make dirt. He then went out of the saloon and afterwards returned with a piece of bread and meat. Clark spoke to him about making dirt and Leonard replied, "You didn't like it then?" Clark said, "No." Leonard then threw the bone on the floor telling Clark to take it out of his hide. Leonard threw off his coat and began to fight Clark, who told him he would hurt him. Leonard was thrown down by some of those present, but was let up and we thought the fight was done. Leonard began again to fight Clark and was soon cut.

Q.—Did you see the razor?

A.—I heard it as it cut Leonard's clothes; saw Clark strike five or six times before Leonard was cut.

Q.—Did Leonard see the razor?

A.—I couldn't say whether he saw it or not.

This closed the testimony. The main point which it was necessary to bring out was with reference to Leonard's recovery, which by the testimony of Dr. Hamlin appears to be merely a question of time. Judge Clark, on summing up the testimony said: The respondent was violently assaulted by the party injured, who was the assailant all through the difficulty. The respondent was right in ordering Leonard to leave the saloon, as the rules of the boat did not allow him there, but his use of a deadly weapon is inexcusable, as there were persons around who could have prevented any serious injury to the respondent. As the party injured is likely to recover, I will reduce the recognizance to $1000 for the appearances of the respondent at the February Term of the Supreme Judicial Court.

The witnesses, Marshall and Brooks, were required to recognize in the sum of $100 each for their appearance, Capt. C. B. Sanford being surety for the parties. Clark was sent on board the Cambridge by Capt. Sanford to resume his duties.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

OCTOBER TERM.

HON. EDWARD KENT, Presiding.
EZRA C. SHEPLEY, Esq., Clerk.

Friday, Oct. 11. The Jury after having been out all night, on the case of Charles E. Dole, et al. vs. Jeremiah Hodgkins et al., which has been on trial since Monday last, came in and reported that they were unable to agree. Peters & Wilson. Brown & Simpson.

Eli Hanson vs. E. & N. A. Railway Co.

This was an action of trespass for the assault of William Foster, employed as baggage man on defendant's road, upon the plaintiff. It appeared from the evidence in the case that Hanson got upon Foster's train at Mattawamkeag, March 20th, 1872, accompanied with a dog and took a seat in a passenger car, the dog sitting much in seat in the same car. Foster requested that the dog be removed from the seat, which was done and the dog crept under another seat and lay down. Subsequently Foster discovered the dog where he lay, and inquired who owned it. No one answering, he seized the dog with intent to remove him to the baggage car, according to the general instructions of the company not to permit dogs to remain in the passenger cars, whereupon Hanson interfered and told Foster to wait till the cars arrived at the next station. Some words followed between the parties, which resulted in their having a clinch, in which Foster was forced down upon a seat, breaking a pane of glass in the scuffle. Being unable to help himself he asked Hanson to let him get up. Hanson said he would do so if he would behave himself, and upon Foster's repeating the request Hanson released him and turned away from him, when Foster seizes an iron fire hook lying by the stove, and struck Hanson while his back was turned, three times, upon the head, with such force as to lay open the scalp to the bone at each blow. The passengers then interfered and stopped the affray. Hanson was badly hurt, was laid up several days and one of his eyes is still affected by the injuries received.

The defendants contended that the circumstances of the case showed this to be a private quarrel between the parties for which the corporation was not liable; also, that Hanson made the first assault upon the brakeman and unlawfully prevented him from performing his duty, and for this reason he ought not to recover.

Saturday, Oct. 12. The evidence and arguments in the case of Hanson vs. E. & N. A. Railway Co. were finished this forenoon, and after instructions from the Court, the Jury retired. They came in after three hours' absence and returned a verdict for the plaintiff against the Company, laying the damages at four thousand dollars.

The case will be carried to the full Court.

THE FIRE.

THE CONFLAGRATION IN WEST MARKET SQUARE FRIDAY EIGHT—HAPS AND MISHAPS—INCIDENTS AND ACCIDENTS—INSURANCE AND LOSSES—THE ORIGIN OF THE FIRE STILL ENVELOPED IN MYSTERY.

All day Saturday and Sunday the ruins of Schwartz block and Fogg & Bridges' store in West Market square were surrounded by a crowd of spectators who braved the dangers of falling walls in the indulgence of their curiosity. The firemen kept at work playing on the burning rubbish until late Saturday forenoon, and again during the day. Owing to the great amount of combustible matter in the cellars, the fire was not extinguished, however, and yesterday afternoon one of the steamers was taken out and the ruins again thoroughly wet down, but were still smoking last night.

THIEVES

were at work during the fire plundering from the stocks of goods removed, and large amounts were stolen, in spite of the vigilance of the police. In several cases the plunderers were detected and obliged to disgorge, and the police captured at the house of Mrs. Scully on Broad street, a box of raisins taken from the Tea Store stock and a lot of patent medicines from Mann's drug store. A lot of men and boys were overhauling the ruins Saturday, and carrying away whatever of value they could find, but they were caught at the nefarious business and driven away.

OLD IRON AND STEEL

in immense quantities were taken out of both stores Saturday, and saved by the owners. These articles will be about all worth preserving from the ruins, except the bricks.

present a sad contrast to their former fine proportions. The rear and part of both side walls of Schwartz block fell during the fire, as we stated Saturday; the front wall is still standing, but will have to come down, as most of the granite of which it is composed is so shattered and disintegrated by the joint effects of fire and water that it is useless for building purposes.

The front of Fogg & Bridges' store, which is of brick with granite trimmings, is in good condition, as also is the side wall on the south side and will probably be allowed to stand when the block is rebuilt. Webster Treat, Esq., who owned this story, intends, we are told, to rebuild it immediately, and also to repair the store occupied by the China Tea Company.

THE LOSSES AND INSURANCE.

Schwartz block, where the fire originated, was completed a little over two years ago at a cost of about $60,000, and Mr. Schwartz's stock of hardware, builders' supplies, doors, sash and blinds, agricultural implements, etc., was valued at $100,000 to $120,000. His insurance was as follows: On building, $5,000 in the National Insurance Co. of Bangor, $8,000 in Eastern of Bangor, $5,000 in Manhattan of New York, $5,000 in Columbia of New York, $2,500 in Williamsburgh City of New York, $2,500 in Safeguard of New York, $8,000 in Franklin of Philadelphia, $3,000 in Westchester of New York, and $3,000 in the Liverpool and London & Globe of England; total $32,000. On stock, $8,000 in Phoenix of Brooklyn, N. Y., $5,000 in North British & Mercantile of England, $10 000 in Lancashire of England, $5,000 in German of Erie, N. Y., $5,000 in Firemens' of N. Y., $5,000 in Columbia of N. Y., $5,000 in Suffolk of Boston, $5,000 in Fairfield County of South Norwalk, $5,000 in Commercial Union of England, $5,000 in Westchester of N. Y., and $4,000 in Connecticut Fire of Hartford; total, $59,000.

The store occupied by Fogg & Bridges and owned by Webster Treat, was erected only a short time before Schwartz block, at a cost of $12,000, and the loss on it is estimated at $10,000; insured for $6,000.

Fogg & Bridges' stock of hardware and builders' supplies was valued at $26,000 to to $28,000, and was a total loss. It was insured as follows:—$2,000 in Franklin Co. of Philadelphia, $3,000 in Ætna of Hartford, $2,500 in Phœnix of Brooklyn, N. Y., $2,500 in Insurance Company of North America, and $3,000 in National of Boston; total, $13,000.

Mr. Treat also owned the store north of Schwartz's, which was built in uniform style with that occupied by Fogg & Bridges. It cost $12,000 and was damaged by fire on the roof and water in all the stories, to the amount of about $1,000; loss covered by insurance.

The China Tea Company, W. H. Adams, proprietor, occupied the lower floor and basement of this block. Mr. Adams' stock, valued at $10,000, was removed, but was damaged about $3,500 by water and breakage. The stock was insured for $5,000 in the Franklin Company of Philadelphia, and $1,500 in the Bangor Mutual; his fixtures, including the engine, etc., in the basement, were insured for $1,200 in the Hanover.

The second floor was occupied as a barber shop by A. W. Johnson, whose furniture and fixtures were damaged by water to the amount of about $500 and insured for $500 in the Franklin of Philadelphia. Wm. B. Henderson occupied rooms on the third floor and his furniture and clothing damaged by smoke and water to the amount of $400; not insured.

M. L. Hopkins had a law office in the front part of the second floor, [illegible] were considerably damaged by smoke and water; they could be removed; no insurance.

The store south of and adjoining Fogg & Bridges', was considerably damaged by fire and smoke in the upper stories, and thoroughly wet. It cost $30,000 and was owned by G. W. Pickering, Esq., who had an insurance of $6,000. The store was occupied by Wm. E. Mann, druggist, most of whose stock was removed, though greatly damaged by breakage and water. The stock was valued at $32,000 to $35,000, and was insured $5,000 in the People's Co., of Worcester, $2,000 in the Bangor Mutual, and $1,000 in the Bay State of Worcester; the fixtures were insured for $300 in the Bay State.

The National Insurance Company occupying offices on the second floor of Schwartz block lost $3,000 worth of furniture, fixtures, blanks, etc., on which there was no insurance. Wm. Franklin Seavey, attorney and patent solicitor, whose office was on the same floor, loses his law library, furniture, etc., to the value of $500, and C. S. Pearl, real-estate agent and auctioneer, occupying the same office, loses books and accounts amounting to $200; neither had any insurance. S. P. Johnson, insurance agent, lost furniture, books, etc., valued at $400, on which there was no insurance. Knowles, job printer, having an office on the third floor, lost his whole stock of type, presses, etc., valued at $3,000 and insured for $1,500. The Penobscot-57-Club, whose rooms were on the fourth floor, lost $300 to $400 worth of furniture, books, etc., not insured.

THE TOTAL LOSS,

therefore, approximates $242,850, on which there was about $126,800 insurance.

THE NATIONAL INSURANCE CO.

so unceremoniously turned out of its headquarters lost the records of the business of 180 agencies, and saved the records of 124 agencies. Their agents have been instructed to forward duplicates, however, and the disarrangement of the company's business will be only temporary. For a day or two their headquarters will be at the Bangor House, but they have leased for ten years, the office in Brown's block, on the corner of Union and Main sts and will have it fitted up for their use in the briefest possible time. The fire will cause no material interruption of the Company's business, as all their securities and the more important books and papers are safe.

THE FALLEN WALLS,

it was feared, covered several persons who were not seen in the vicinity after the crash, but an investigation Saturday showed this to be a groundless apprehension. Among the persons reported to be missing was Mr. E. H. Prescott, who was himself gravely asked by scores of persons Saturday, if he "was any relation to Fred Prescott who was missing." We are happy to be able to state that Mr. Prescott is still alive and attending to business as usual.

Charlie Batchelder, who was hurt by the falling wall, was suffering a great deal from his injuries, yesterday, his hands being so badly burned that the skin and flesh peeled off, and a cash two inches long cut in his scalp. There is no doubt of his recovery, however, though he will probably be confined to the house for some time.

Edward Maloney, injured by falling from a ladder in the attic of Mann's store, was able to be out Saturday, but until he was informed, did not know how he was hurt or taken home.

Dr. Preble's broken leg is of course painful, but he is getting along as comfortably as could be expected.

THE FUNERAL OF MR. WM. H. BRACKETT, who was killed by the falling wall, took place yesterday, and was attended by Oriental Lodge, No. 60; I. O. O. F., of which he was a member. Mr. Brackett leaves an invalid wife and two children, one three years and one three months of age. His life was insured for $4,500, for the benefit of his family.

INCIDENTS.

In ringing the second alarm, Friday night, the cast-iron yoke of the fire bell on the steamer house was broken, and the bell came down with a crash upon the bell-deck. The bell on the Unitarian church was also disabled by the tongue becoming unshackled and falling out before a half-dozen strokes had been rung.

Refreshments were furnished to the firemen by Mayor Wheelwright, Dr. Geo. W. Ladd and Wood, Bishop & Co.

Geo. W. Pickering, Esq., has presented $100 to Union Hose Co. for their services in assisting to save his building occupied by Mr. W. E. Mann.

Merchants doing business in the vicinity of the burned buildings generously tendered the use of their stores to protect the goods saved from the fire.

The necessity of the large reservoir which it is proposed to build under Central Bridge was made apparent at this fire. The extensive reservoir in Mercantile Square gave out at 12.45, and the steamer on Kenduskeag Bridge was obliged to stop playing soon after, as the ebbing tide lowered the water out of reach. The great reservoir under the steamer house was pumped dry before daylight. By removing the steamers to the wharves back of Broad st. water was taken from the stream, but this would have been impossible if the old wooden storehouses had been burning.

THE ORIGIN OF THE FIRE

remains shrouded in mystery, though it is conjectured that it originated by the spontaneous combustion of some sawdust on the floor of Schwartz's cellar, strown there to absorb the oil spilled in drawing and by leakage. In whatever manner it started, the fire spread with remarkable rapidity, for at 11 o'clock, Mr. J. T. Hoskins, book keeper, and Mr. W. H. Mansfield, engineer of the steam fire engines, were in the store, and there was no sign or smell of fire. Half an hour afterward, the explosion took place which caused the alarm, and was followed by the destruction of the building.

BANGOR POLICE COURT.

JUDGE CLARK, PRESIDING.

Saturday, Oct. 12. State vs. Barney Breen; drunkenness; fined $5 and costs.

BUSINESS ITEMS.

A REMARKABLE NEW RAILROAD.—Where are all the new railroads now building in the West to find profitable business? This question is being asked by those who are invited to loan money upon the Bonds of the roads under construction, and it is a very proper query. But there are, here and there, railroads which give their own best answer to the question. Among these, especially cases is the CHICAGO, DANVILLE & VINCENNES Railroad, which is to be the great coal road for Chicago and the adjacent country. It is an air-line route by which the Block and Bituminous Coals of Indiana will reach the manufacturing cities of the northwest. It has been in operation since December last and the remarkable fact concerning it is that one division of the road alone has earned enough, net, to pay the total interest upon the entire bonded debt of the whole road, and a dividend upon the stock beside. The actual figures are given in an advertisement elsewhere in this paper, and are worth a careful examination.

The road that is showing these very unusual earnings has a light mortgage debt, and its First Mortgage Bonds are selling very nearly par to the most careful investors. NORTH AUBURN Maine, Aug 31, 1872

MR FRANKLINSMAN, Augusta, Me.—Dear Sir I have been troubled with lung disease for fifteen years. I tried your Balsam under Dr. Fairbanks treatment of Turner Village, for ten years, he was the leading physician of the town. I have had five goodphysicians besides those six-mounts, and Turnerton try to cure me, and other physicians have examined my lungs, one of them, Dr. Alonzo Garcelon of Lewiston, gave me medicine to stop my coughing, but it never two could expect to recover, for there was a large cavity on the upper part of the left lung. I was confined to my bed for 10 years I had tubercles on my lungs and they were diseased very bad I have had several bleeding spells, and was exercised so low that I could only be moved on a sheet for five months to have my bed made. My cough was always the worst in the morning. The doctors said they could do no more for me and after trying the of the leading patent medicines I came to the conclusion that there was nothing on earth that would give me relief. I tried it when I needed it the most, but now I find have got to be up that time, for Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam has done it. I was surprised one morning after reading your advertisement and procuring a bottle of your Balsam, of Wakefield Bros. at Lewiston, and taking some, that I did not need to get up to cough, but I had done. I found it very easy to cough, and I only need three bottles, no bleeding now, no sheets, no tubercles, and I cannot find words to tell you how much better I feel than I did before taking. I send this my unsolicited testimonial, for the benefit of the many thousands who are suffering from lung disease, that they may be induced to try this wonderful healing Balsam. Hoping that God may bless you in the great work you are doing by relieving and curing the suffering I am yours respectfully,

REBECCA W. COFFIN.

BOSTON, March 28 1872

Mr F W Kinsman Augusta, Me.

Dear Sir Having used your Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam in my family with complete success, it gives pleasure in adding my testimonial to a remedy of such excellent and unexcelled properties. The greatest success of all was the complete cure of a cough of five months duration Two bottles of your valuable remedy effected a cure that four skillful physicians failed to do I would not be without it, and cheerfully recommend it to all

Wishing you success in your wonderful work, I remain yours respectfully,
